WJ Classifieds: Buy One, Get One Free

The Waterways Journal offers a discount for multiple classified advertisers. For a limited time, advertisers who purchase one classified ad at full price may run a second, different, ad for free.

Here's how it works: If your company is looking for additional vessel personnel, you can run a "Help-Wanted" ad. At the same time, you can advertise a used piece of equipment for sale in either "floating equipment for sale" or "Miscellaneous for Sale." The smaller of the two ads will be FREE, as long as they run in the same issue.

Likewise, if you're in the market to buy a used barge or two to bolster a new service your company is offering, you could place a "Boats, Barges, Etc., Wanted" ad, and simultaneously run a new listing in the "Services" category. Again, the smaller of the two ads will be free.

Call 314, 241-7354 for more details.

Inland Salvage Awarded Wreck Removal Contract

Inland Salvage Inc. (ISI) was recently selected as salvor to conduct wreck removal operations of a 2,650-ton inland drill barge following an unsuccessful attempt by another contractor to salvage the barge.

The barge partially capsized in Bayou Shaffer, near Morgan City, La., on September 4, 2011. ISI provided initial emergency response, dive and lightering services after the barge capsized due to Tropical Storm Lee's storm surge.

Following extensive dive surveys, ISI's chief operating officer, David Grecho, assembled ISI's salvage management team, drawing from each member's particular field of expertise.

The salvage officers met with the command staff at the Coast Guard's Marine Safety Unit-Morgan City in order to coordinate and clear procedures for ISI wreck removal operations. Work commenced January 17 with the arrival of ISI's salvage fleet of two heavy lift A-frames, crane barge, tugs, receiver barges and crew support vessels.

Wreck removal operations are underway and on schedule. Divers were separating the superstructure from the barge hull by burning all supporting beams and trunks at the deck level in zero-visibility conditions. ISI's plan calls for the separation of the superstructure, floatation and par-buckling of the main barge, chain-cutting the superstructure into four separate pieces, and final retrieval via heavy lift operations.
